Description

Shania

Pretty, pretty, pretty! Shania is a beautiful, bay molly with a kind eye, soft cream muzzle and chrome on her legs! She rides and packs just as dandy as she looks. At seven years young, Shania stands 15.3. Easy in the bridle, Shania walks off, trots and lopes nicely. She'll collect up for a lovely stop too! Shania is no stranger to work. She is eager to do as asked and will cover any trail you take her on. Ropes, barrels, guns, elk, dogs, and cattle are all sights and sounds Shania is used to. She has covered ground across the Rocky Mountains being used as a riding mule to guide hunters in the fall and spraying back country weeds in the summer. In the arena or out on the trail, she is easy to get along with and faithfully crosses, bridges, water, logs, rocky outcroppings, and opens and closes gates with a nice side pass. Hauls, loads, and hobbles with ease. On the ground, she'll pick up her feet and stand for saddling and bridling. She will fit almost all riders, though has not had extensive experience with children. As part of the riding and pack string for our outfitting company, she is well suited for various levels of adult riders. Shania is the perfect molly addition to your barn! For more information, call Clint Jones (970) 210-6139.
