Description

Mr. Charles affectionately known as Charlie by many, embodies the enchanting unicorn that little girls dream of. Truly there's no pony quite like him. He's a six year old, perfectly proportioned, stout Palomino paint pony gelding that commands attention wherever he goes. His long lustrous, pearly- white mane and matching tail, combined with his golden- hued body, makes him the star of every show. But Charlie isn't just a pretty face; his charming personality and innate confidence are truly remarkable. He has an effortless affinity for people of all ages, showering everyone with affection without hesitation. Even in new surroundings, he remains calm and collected, never flinching at unexpected sights or sounds. He approaches any situation with curiosity and always handles everything with the kindest attitude. Charlie is a brave companion, whether we're riding along the beach, navigating busy streets in a carriage, or edging a spa day. He stands perfectly still, whether being saddled or washed, he will ground tie, single tie, or cross tie. Clipping? No problem at all! He'll sneak occasional smooch as you clip his ears. His gentle kisses and cozy snuggles will win your heart instantly. He embodies the spirit of a big horse in a pony's body, and what I love most about him is his ability to connect with both children and adults. Charlie is truly a "one- in- a million" pony you don't want to overlook. Whether you seek a gentle companion for your little ones to create unforgettable memories, a sidekick to lavish with attention during retirement, or simply a beautiful presence in your pasture, he gives his all every time. He's the perfect confidence booster for nervous handlers and the easiest horse I've ever had on the farm. Charlie is a breeze to catch in sprawling fields and adapts effortlessly, whether on his own or mingling with a variety of equine friends, from miniature ponies to Clydesdale. He can settle anywhere you put him, and he might even make himself at home inside the house! (352)-615-5070
