If you're looking for the prettiest, shapiest and best colored gelding in the vicinity – here he is. Let's not forget – trained. We've been hauling PB to the ranch riding shows in Arizona all winter and he is truly an all around. He has a natural level headset and big turn around, massive slide stops and stays light between your bridle reins. Paintbrush crosses the ground poles with ease and is super easy to steer. Also, he is well-started in the heeling and has been lightly hauled; he's also shaping up to be an excellent breakaway prospect. This gelding is truly a gentle, trustworthy horse that suits absolutely anyone, with a heart of gold and a personality that makes him everyone's friend. He lays down on command, comes to you in the pasture and is always interested in the next task at hand. We've hauled him all over the map from California to the Colorado mountains, Arizona desert, and the big outfits of Texas. Paintbrush has proven himself at sorting, penning, and roping's – no job is too big or small for this versatile gelding. With absolutely no negative qualities, he's the horse you've been waiting for.
